You are invited to the 46th annual Design Village Conference, a competition hosted by Cal Poly's architecture program. It has become one of the most anticipated events of the year within the College of Architecture and Environmental Design. This year, for the first time, the conference will be held virtually and participation is free of charge. True to the Learn by Doing motto, teams will digitally design shelters in Poly Canyon on Cal Poly's campus.

[perspective]

Perspective is defined as a view from a particular point in space, as well as a particular attitude or point of view. This year's theme asks participants to contemplate how their views, both literally and figuratively, affect their designs.
